Recognition Day Assembly Tomorrow Opens Gala Week-End; Queen Eloise Will Ride To Coronation In Regal Sedan Chair

Honors, Trophies, Prizes Awarded Tomorrow At 10

Trophaeum Honoris Feminis, J. J. Urschel Cup, Student Council Assembly Plaque Will Be Presented

Students who have done outstanding work in scholarship and extra-curricular activities during the past year will be honored at the second annual Recognition Day assembly tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The program will feature cash awards, trophies, plaques, and other honoraries which will be given to Bowling Green's exceptional students and student groups.

Seniors will walk in academic procession and attend the annual program in caps and gowns. President Frank J. Prout and the academic deans will award the honors.

During the program the names of students graduating cum laude and magna cum laude will be announced, as well as the winners of the following special awards:

A tropaeum honoris feminis, the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Siebens will be awarded for the first time to the woman "who during her course of studies has achieved a personality exemplifying most harmoniously the qualities of physical fitness, feminine charm, noble living, scholarship and enthusiasm for worthy life objectives." The trophy is to remain in the possession of the university but each year the name of the winner will be inscribed upon it.

Another trophy to be awarded for the first time is the J. J. Urschel cup, to be presented to the non-sorority, non-fraternity dormitory with the highest scholastic standing. Kohl Hall, Shatzel Hall and Williams Hall will be the main contestants here.

Last year, the Chemical Journal Club gave a prize to the freshman who had done outstanding work in chemistry. This year, two prizes will be awarded—one to a senior and one to a freshman.

The annual faculty Women's Club award of $25 to the senior girl who is outstanding for scholarship and leadership will also be awarded tomorrow. Fellowships to deserving students will be announced.

In addition, special recognition will be given to members of Book and Motor and the seven departmental honorary fraternities now on the campus, as well as the service and cultural clubs and organizations of the university.

Local CAA Students Take Ground School Exams

All students enrolled in the Civilian Pilot's Training Program were in Toledo yesterday taking their ground school examination along with the student flyers from Toledo University. These examinations were under the supervision of the Civil Aeronautics Authority inspector and the results will probably be announced next week.

Seniors To Lampoon Faculty At Annual Gridiron Dinner

By TONY FRANCES

President Frank J. Prout, the deans and the entire faculty will be in for a broiling good time when the senior men throw the second annual gridiron banquet at Kohl Hall tomorrow night at 6. A select committee has arranged the script, and satirical sketches to lampoon the administration and its policies in the traditional gridiron fire.

The gridiron banquet was inaugurated here last year. Richard Lilley, former associate editor of the Bee Gee News and now working on the Washington Daily News, was in charge of the program.

In Washington, D. C., the original Gridiron Club is an organization of correspondents with a membership limited to 50. At semi-annual dinners, in April and in December, these newspapermen lambast the government and its policies right before the President and the leading officials of the administration. It is after this group that Bowling Green fashions its own tradition.

Pierce Will Teach Law In Business Ad College In Fall

Dr. Litherland To Direct Student Teaching In Place Of Pierce

Appointment of Dr. B. L. Pierce, present director of student teaching on the campus, to a full time professorship in the department of business administration culminates plans under way for several months to permit him to relinquish his supervisory work so that he may devote full time to the teaching of law. Announcement of Dr. Pierce's new faculty position, and the appointment of his successor as supervisor of teacher training, was made last week by President F. J. Prout.

Dr. Herschel Litherland, county superintendent of schools of Allen county, will become director of student teaching next fall at the time Dr. Pierce takes over his new duties. Dr. Litherland is a graduate of Greenville college, in Illinois, and holds a master of Arts degree from the University of South Dakota, and a Ph. D. from the University of Cincinnati.

The department of business administration has been anxious to take advantage of Dr. Pierce's training in law in connection with an expansion of the department's law curriculum, according to Dean Ralph G. Harshman, of the college of business administration.

Two new elective law courses, The Law of Markets, and Business Torts, will be offered by Dr. Pierce next year. He has taught one law course, in addition to his supervisory duties, for the past two years.

Professor Pierce holds the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Michigan, and is a member of The Order of Coif, highest scholastic law recognition society. He was admitted to the bar of Ohio in 1931. His B. A. is from Oberlin college, and he has a Master's from Columbia.

"Dr. Pierce's background of law training is not surpassed by any law teacher in any business school in the state," Dean Harshman stated in commenting on Dr. Pierce's transfer to his department.

Queen And Her Court

Queen Eloise Dyer, above, surrounded by her court of Janet Crum (left), Virginia Patterson, Ruth Eskilsen and Constance Smith, will accept the crown as Queen of May tomorrow afternoon in the amphitheater.

Miss Caroline Nielsen, chairman of the May Day committee, has built the 1941 May Day on a Shakespearean theme.

Survey To Reveal Student Activities

A survey of 1300 students on the campus, members of freshman, sophomore, and junior classes, will be attempted by the Student Council for the purpose of getting an accurate picture of what the present student body will be doing next year. A committee composed of Ed Christian and June Reed is directing the work which will be done by individual investigators.

Student Council interest in the project was aroused by the returns on questionnaires recently returned to the Registrar's office. The Registrar was interested in learning the needs for courses and number of sections to be arranged for September, but many students eligible to return did not reply. Since it appears that an abnormal number of students may not return to classes next fall, the Student Council desires to learn the true picture by means of a complete survey.

The Council believes that it will be interesting and valuable to tabulate the activities in which those who do not return will be engaged.

Kerschner Named To Trustees Board

Governor John W. Bricker sent to the senate the appointment of Minor C. Kerschner, Henry county, to serve as a trustee of Bowling Green State University from May 18, 1941 to May 17, 1946.

Mr. Kerschner will replace Miss Bessie Dwyer, Montpelier, whose term is expiring.

The appointment constitutes a triumph for the members of the Bowling Green Alumni association for he is the first alumnus to ever be appointed to the Board of Trustees. He was graduated with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at the University on August 5, 1938, majoring in history and minoring in physical education and coaching. Before coming here he studied in Defiance and Wittenberg colleges and the University of Notre Dame.

Council Lays Plans For Frosh Week

Plans for the faculty and president reception, freshman mixer, snake dance and movie crash, all part of next fall's freshman week program have already been completed, according to Roger Gifford, Student Council president.

The program will be inaugurated on Monday, September 15, when the council will sponsor the annual president and faculty mixer for new students in the Women's building. It will continue with a pep rally in the University stadium on Tuesday night which will be followed by the snake dance and movie crash. The climax of Freshman Week activities will be the mixer to be held Wednesday, September 18, in the new Student Union building.

Also, according to President Gifford, council committees have been named for next year. They are as follows: Richard Camp and Kermit Hartzler, board of publications; Don Cunningham, council publicity; June Smith, council member of the social committee and John Keown and James Ludwik as non council members on the University entertainment committee.

Cuyahoga County Alumni Hear Dr. Zaugg At Dinner

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Cuyahoga County Bowling Green Alumni Association which met in a dinner meeting at Cuyahoga Heights high school last Saturday.

Robert C. Ray, graduate of the University and now principal at Cuyahoga Heights, was in charge of the arrangements. Over 40 former Bowling Green students attended.

Chairman

CAROLINE NIELSEN

Miss Caroline Nielsen, above, foreign language professor, organized the first May Day program here in 1924. She is still chairman of the committee and has arranged 18 different celebrations.

Amphitheatre To Be Scene Of May Day Celebration

Festivities Begin At 2:30 With Procession From Men's Gym; High School Queens To Be Guests Of Honor

Miss Eloise Dyer, Seven Sister president and senior, will be crowned Queen of May tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p. m. in the open air amphitheater in a gala Shakespearean setting studded with campus beauties, flowers, pages, court jesters and Old English trimmings. The May Day procession will form at the Men's Gymnasium preceding the coronation according to Miss Caroline Nielsen who is chairman of the committee for May Day festivities.

The procession which will be one of the most colorful events of the day will be headed by the May Queens of various neighboring high schools who will attend the program as guests of the university. They will be followed by the Madrigal Singers, the court jesters and the stately court dancers.

The senior men and women will form the next part of the procession and will be followed by the crown bearer and the Queen. Eloise will be carried to her throne in a majestic sedan chair and will be accompanied by ladies in waiting and pages. Assuming an Elizabethan air, the program will bring regal court life to the campus for a day.

During the dancing and the Punch and Judy Shows the Seven Sister sorority will serve tea on the green. The program for the day will be in the form of a purple and gold booklet and the story of the procession will be printed in old English lettering inside the booklet. Michael D'Asaro will act as herald for the festivities of the day.

Some of the smaller girls and boys who will help to make the celebration a success are Sally Steidtmann and Jean Stewart, flower girls; Bobby Steller, crown bearer; and Richard Dickerman and Richard Manhart, pages.

Defense Training Courses Offered

In an effort to secure positions on defense projects after graduation, approximately 30 men have registered for the courses in defense work now offered by the university.

The Department of Education, in cooperation with the Federal Office of Education, has set up a National Defense Program to provide for the shortage of skilled industrial workers. Bowling Green has been approved to offer a general metals course. This will train the student in simple welding, tempering, drilling, shaping, machine repair and operation.

Students taking the course work 15 hours a week. The shop is open to them from 4:50 and 7:10 daily, and Saturday from 8-5. It is known as a general pre-employment course. At the end of this semester, two other courses may be added. One will be a pre-employment course in woodworking, requiring the student to work 15 hours a week, and the other will probably be a specific preparation course in machine shop work requiring 30 hours per week.

The entire set-up is known as the Out of School Youth Problem of the Office of Education under the direction of J. W. Studebaker. LaMar Knecht, graduate of Bowling Green, is instructor. He is under the supervision of the Industrial Arts department.

Costumes are in charge of Marie Greenwood, and Roger Wheeler will control the complex lighting effects. Max Hanke has charge of the program. Marshall Folts and Paul Smythe are business managers, and Ruth Kellermeyer is property mistress.

The formalized setting which is to be used follows a trend in recent years in the American theatre toward simplicity.

Students Need Activity Cards For Keys In Rec Hall Friday

University students will need their activity cards from both semesters this year to get their Keys in the Recreation Hall Friday from 2:30 to 5:30, following special ceremonies arranged by the Key staff.

President Frank J. Prout will receive the first copy of the 1941 Key from Editor Don Rager during the intermission of a dance arranged by the staff. Outstanding personalities on the campus, whose pictures appear in a special section of the book, will also be introduced and presented their annuals by the editor. Following this, yearbooks will be available to the entire student body. Distribution of the books will be made from the Social kitchen in the Rec Hall. Students who signed for padded covers, names and padded covers with names will assemble in line at the east window. Faculty members and students who ordered only the hardcase covers will assemble at the west window.

Students who are members of organizations indebted to the 1941 Key on Friday, May 23, will not receive their annuals until the bill is paid. This ruling also applies to students delinquent on tuition fees.

According to state law a charge of eight cents sales tax must be collected at the time the annual is received by the student.

Campus Swing Band To Play Over WSPD Saturday At 6:30

Eddie Ross and his Collegians will present a program of popular dance music on the University's radio broadcast over WSPD at 6:30 Saturday evening. The popular campus orchestra will play for 15 minutes, broadcasting from the Practical Arts building.

Next week Professor and Mrs. T. Smith will read selections from Peer Gynt, and on June 8 the Varsity Quartette will conclude the radio series.

Fragments Of Thought

By ALBERT L. BOUCHER

I got a theory about graft and corruption. It seems to me that these malpractices flow from a feeling of contempt on the part of the grafter for the people whom he is supposed to be representing. They reflect a lack of respect for the common man, and an effort to avoid any sensibility of being exploited. Take, for instance, the politician.

A man is elected to public office. He goes forth to serve his constituents with his whole heart and soul. His and no thought of personal gain enters his mind. Self-sacrifice and devotion to the people's welfare is his only concern. But no sooner does he cross the threshold of public life than he finds himself bombarded from all sides by selfish interests seeking special favors. Belatedly he discovers that he is actually responsible to these lobbyists for his election to office in the first place. It is these people who are organized and who sway the thinking of the countless John Does. Yet our embryonic politician knows that if he submits to the demands of these selfish interests, he violates his oath of office and so fails the people in whose name he speaks. This he will not do. Instead he goes directly to the voter for support. He will justify his faith in democracy. But now he finds that the same groups who organized to elect him have determined to destroy him. Not only is the common man deaf to his warning, but even a hearing is denied. And then it is that our bidding statesman forces an ignominious end to his public life. "Why those stupid blockheads," he bellows, "I try to protect them from the tightening tentacles of the vested interests and they denounce me." . . . "O.K., if they won't let me help them, then I'll help myself." With this our now mature politician calls in the lobbyist. A deal is arranged, and continuance in office is assured.

In a similar manner a man may go into the labor field. In the beginning he is fired by a worthy ambition. He will dedicate his life to the betterment of mankind. By educating the masses to realize their real power he will enable them to mould society closer to their hearts desire. He will make democracy work. But once in office he becomes disgusted with the ignorance and apathy of the worker. He will find a self-seeking minority with their demagogic appeal exploiting the minority who come to the union meetings. Friction, confusion, and disloyalty run rampant. Finally our idealist is disillusioned. Honesty is selling at a discount. With this he dips his hand in to the cash box, and again unionism is made to pay. The same situation prevails in the case of "honorary" offices.

When an individual finds himself chairman of this, or editor of that, he also finds that he has let himself in for a lot of work. If he has nothing but a title to show for his efforts, he gradually comes to believe that he is being exploited by the group. He does all the work, and they sit back and reap the harvest. This is repelling to him. What's more, he does something about it. If money passes through his hands, he finds ways to withhold a part of it. He pads expense accounts, and accepts "gifts" from those with whom he does business. In the end our "honorary" officer no longer fees he is being exploited.

Well, that's my theory. Further, I believe that graft and corruption will be with us until all men are equal and until all contribute according to their full ability.

On The Social Side

By ROBERT HABENSTEIN

"At least once a year the columnists who purport to write on the heavy side ought to break down and write something that will put less strain on the intellect of what reading public he enjoys," says my friend as we wait for George to fry a brace of giant hamburgers. "Which is OK by me," I return disinterestedly, "but if you have no reading public what the heck is the difference?"

"The difference is that if you left the Social Side now and then for a humorous side, maybe you would have an occasional reader."

"Could be. No onions, George."

"No onions, no mustard."

"To tell the truth, I've run out of funny things to say. Besides, Mittleman has copped all my jokes and stories."

"Well, how about the Delhi assembly continuity, and the stuff cooked up for the Gridiron Dinner?"

"Oh, most of that was the result of general bull sessions with a half a dozen guys pitching their gags together. Java, and heavy on the cream, George."

"Now look my literary friend, why can't you do the same regarding the material for your weekly effort?"

"Simply because none of the gang gives a hoot about the Social Side."

"Quit beefin'. By the way, have you got a column for this week yet?"

"No."

"Maybe I can help."

"How?"

"Tell you a good story about a friend of mine."

"It better be good, and keep it clean."

"Don't worry. It's about this friend of mine and some friend of his."

"Sounds complicated, but go ahead."

"Well, my friend has known this other guy for a long time and he is plenty fed up with him. He is fed up because this guy is a walking encyclopedia and knows the exact answer for any fact question that you should ask. What's more, everytime you dig up some nice piece of information, he claims he already knows that and proceeds to go you one better. This has gone on until my friend is lying awake nights trying to stump this guy. If he could just amaze or confound him sometime with a fact or figure, so that the guy would have absolutely nothing to say, then my friend would be happy again.

"Well, one day my friend calls me up on the phone and he is all excited. He tells me to come up to his house right away because he wants me to give him some help. But he won't say what he is doing. So I rush over to my friend's house wondering all the way what has come over my friend who not only sounded excited but even happy. When I get to his house, I find him standing beside a big crate inside of which is a large animal.

"What in the heck is that?" I ask.

"It's a water buffalo," he says, pleased like. "Help me push him up to the bathroom."

"Now I believe in always giving a guy the benefit of the doubt; but as we pushed that water buffalo into the bathroom, I figured my next step would be to call the law and have my friend taken somewhere where he couldn't do any harm. Anyhow, we finally got the animal into the bathroom and then I'll be darned if he didn't push it into the bathtub, take a gun and shoot it dead.

"Maybe you think I'm nuts," says my friend as he grins up evilly from his sordid work, "but this is going to do the trick."

"Do what trick?" I manage to gasp.

"Well, you remember this guy who knows all the answers all the time and furthermore always has one better. Tonight this guy is coming up for dinner, and sometime during the night he's going to come up to this bathroom. Then he's going to come running downstairs all agitated and excited and holler, 'Hey, do you know you've got a dead water buffalo in your bathtub?'"

"Of course," I'll reply very coolly. "But do you know that there are only 1457 of them alive on the island of Guam? And by heck, that ought to stop him cold!"

"Pretty good, pretty good. I'll tell you what I'll do. If I can't get a column out of P. M. I'll use it."

"O.K., don't say nobody ever helped you and your Social Side. Take it all out of the half, George."

"So long, Molly."

"So long, Molly."

- History Of The Key In Pictures -

The Bee Gee, left, above, was published in 1918—Bowling Green's first Annual. In 1924 it was renamed the Key and increased in size. At right is the 1941 Key, showing a change in cover and a second increase in size. The 1941 Keys will be distributed Friday in the Rec Hall.

1941 Key Is 20 Years Old; Began Life As The Bee Gee

Why do we call it the Key? Well, it's a long story, going back about sixteen years.

On Tuesday, Jan. 29, 1924 when the yearbook was still in its infancy, an entire chapel program was devoted to a speech about college annual by Coach McCandless. During his speech, Mr. McCandless referred to his own annual as "a key which unlocks past memories of college days." Prof. J. R. Overman, now Dean of the Liberal Arts College, who was then faculty advisor for the annual, conceived the idea that the Bowling Green annual should be known thereafter as the Key. The suggestion met with thunderous applause and to this day, the annual publication has been known as the Key. That's the name.

Prior to this time, the annual was called the Bee Gee. The first issue was published by the student body in 1918 under Editor Elsie C. Myer and with Leon Loyal Winslow as faculty advisor. In 1919 it was published and edited by the graduating class. It was not until 1924 that the third issue came out under its present name.

The 1925 edition was an anniversary issue edited by C. D. Fox, now superintendent of schools at Van Wert and president of the Bowling Green State University Alumni Association. Succeeding issues were published in the seven and one half by ten and one half size with a leatherette cover, with the exception of the depression years of 1933 and 1935 when the Bee Gee News put out small paper covered volumes. In 1938 the Key was increased to its present size.

Editor Don Rager and his staff will present volume 20 to the student body Friday in the Recreation Hall. It is the culmination of 20 years experience in photography, editing, writing and make-up. Compare the difference.

LeValley, Price Will Star In Shakespearean Play

Shakespeare laid his play in Illyria, an imaginary Mediterranean country. The 17 scenes of the three-act drama take place in five locations: a room in the Duke's palace, a sea-coast, a room in Olivia's house, Olivia's garden and a street. Scene changes will be accomplished merely by changing the properties, and the main curtain will be drawn only at the finish of each of the three acts.

Lighting equipment will be used by means of which the mood of the setting can be changed in accordance with changes in the mood of the play. The women's costumes have very full skirts, tight bodices, low necklines.

AT THE CLA-ZEL . . .

Most talked of movie of the year is "The Great Dictator," starring the famous comedian, Charlie Chaplin, and playing Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

A direct take-off on Hitler's regime, Charlie himself is the great dictator—by accident. A captive in a concentration camp, Chaplin so closely resembles the mock Nazi chief that he is saluted and taken for the dictator himself.

Instead of the Nazi swastika, dictator Charlie wears two crosses—the "double cross."

Jack Oakie, the other dictator in the film, appears an unbelievable likeness to Mussolini. His chin is wonderful. Dress and stature make him a perfect facsimile of the Italian Duce.

In the supporting cast are Paulette Goddard, Henry Daniell and Maurice Moscovitch. Recommended.

"The Great American Broadcast" tells the gay story of the people who first filled the air waves with song and laughter. Plays today, tomorrow and Friday.

A history of radio, the new musical stars Alice Faye, Jack Oakie, John Payne and Cesar Romero.

Top notch song hits are played and sung by Miss Faye, the Wier Brothers and the Four Ink Spots. Good Entertainment.

Open Letter

To Student Body:

I have just received the following letter from Dr. Ray G. Wood, Director of Ohio Scholarship Tests:

"I take pleasure in telling you how well the District-State Scholarship Test came off at Bowling Green last Saturday. So far as our checks show, there were no serious errors in any one of the several institutions this year. If it were possible for me to do so, I would like very much to write, expressing my personal gratitude to each one of the staff who assisted you with this work, but since we are very busy with the compilation of the state results, I will leave that to you to do for me."

Mr. Jordon and the entertainment committee join me in expressing our sincere appreciation for your very full and efficient cooperation.

Very truly yours,
W. C. Hoppes, Local Chairman District State Scholarship Test

A couple of birds got together a while ago and built themselves a nest in the light over the south side entrance to the Men's gym. Three offspring are now chirping in harmony, which proves that our biology prof. was on the level when he told us about the birds and the bees, etc.

DROOLINGS . . . It used to be that when a guy graduated from college, he thought about looking for a job . . . now he spends all his time seeking out relative mortality rates in the Army, Navy and Air Corps, finding out the rates of pay in these services and which has the nicest uniforms. The main trouble with the Army is the crawling through the mud under barbed wire. Somehow, this doesn't appeal to us. Ever since we stopped making mud pies, we have been allergic to the stuff. The Air Corps is nice and clean, but the main trouble here is that you just keep flying and flying until you get shot down. Look how long you have to think things over while you are falling. And besides, high altitudes make us dizzy. Which leaves the Navy. All you have to be in the Navy is a good swimmer. Your ship sinks, so you swim—for a couple of hundred miles. But it isn't any fun swimming alone, and they don't allow females on battleships, so that leaves the Navy out. Now all we have to do is convince the draft boards and recruiting offices that we are not the type they want, and we'll be all set to live happily ever after. If only we had flat feet—or maybe we just ain't got no patriotism.

GURGLS . . .

Orchids to Hugh Nott, who last week wrote what we think is one of the best sport stories ever to appear in the News—the one about the trouncing the BG trackmen got from Ohio U . . . Ho-hum, so many things going on this week, and we can't even think of anything to write. We could say something about getting plenty of sleep so that you'll have enough energy to go to everything that's going on, and we could remind you that there will be open air square dancing on May Day, and don't miss "Twelfth Night," but you can read all about that stuff in other parts of the paper. We think someone is playing dirty tricks on us by not giving us cause to complain, such as whistles, clocks, knee socks, etc. By the way, who swiped the telephone and coin box from the booth in the Ad. building? The booth could be used for quick showers between classes if someone would put in running water.

QUOTABLE QUOTES - - By ACP

"A democratic education is an education which helps human persons to shape themselves, judge by themselves, discipline themselves, to love and to prize the high truths which are the very root and safeguard of their dignity, to respect in themselves and in others human nature and conscience and to conquer themselves in order to win their liberty." Dr. Jacques Maritain, noted French educator, visiting professor of philosophy at Columbia university, emphasizes discipline in defining democratic education.

"Within the last decade the world has been given a brilliant demonstration of what can be done by regimented education. The totalitarian powers have taught us what can happen when school, press and radio are all focused on the inculcation of one series of ideas. It has been with them an amazingly efficient task. I have had some apprehension lest, as the emergency sharpens, we might be tempted to emulate them. The necessity for the defense and the preservation of democracy is so compelling that it is to some people an attractive idea that it might be saved by drawing up a series of formulas which could be driven into the minds of school and college students every day between eleven and twelve. Such attempts, would seem to me, miss the whole point at issue: namely, that there can be no single definition of democracy, that it is essential that people who live under it differ in their ideas and their opinions, and that the aim of education in a democracy is to open people's minds, not to seal them hermetically once and for all." Harry Woodburn Chase, chancellor of New York university, cautions against the easy road to totalitarianism.

"Civilization must find a refuge in America; the abolition, except as training schools, of the universities of totalitarian states; the tendency of recent educational pronouncements in France; the dispersion and bombing of universities in England mean that nowhere else in the world, except in this country, can the standard of freedom, truth and justice be raised. The American universities are the last resource of a world plunging to destruction." Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, sees the American college as the hope of the world.

Two Wolverine Nines Invade Nest This Week-End

Capital Thinlyclads Here For Meet Today

Capitalists Reported Strong In Dashes, Weak In Field

Lutherans Boast Win Over Wittenberg Tracksters But Falcons, Fresh From Albion Victory, Are Rated As Favorites

By HUGH NOTT

Bowling Green's cinder artists, confident from their recent win over Albion College, will entertain Capital University here this afternoon. The Purple squad, boasting a close victory over Wittenberg two weeks ago, will bring a not too well-balanced team, strong in the running events, but rather weak in the field.

Sophomore Bob Geist, present Capital record holder in the high hurdles, can whip his lanky frame over the tall timbers in 15.8 seconds. Dick Stock is the Lutherans' outstanding sprinter, having been clocked in 21.8 for the 220 yard dash. Luther Long, star quarter-miler, did a 55.4 440 in the recent Wittenberg meet.

Holmquist Top Miler
In the distances, the only reliable men are Chet Holmquist and Ted Leach. Holmquist's best time for the mile is 4:43.8, and he runs a slow 880 in about 2:10. Senior Ted Leach's specialty is the two-mile which he does in the remarkably slow time of 11 minutes flat.

Bill Oberdorfer experiences little trouble in making the amazing height of 10-4 in the pole vault. However, it is quite possible that he may be up to 10-6 for this meet. Ridiculous as this may sound, Capital is no pushover; their running squad carries a number of veterans, including Jim Gill, Norman Orr, Howie Craven, and Jim Knapp as well as the others mentioned.

B. G. Favored
On the basis of past times and records, the Brood should have something of a Roman holiday, especially on their own track. Jean Bellard should easily take the pole vault, and Captain Dwight Toedter may team up with Jerry Heitman again to place first and second in the half-mile. Peerless Eddie will be back in form to collect his usual quota of firsts and seconds. Ken Winslow and Ralph Boroff are quite liable to pick off Ted Leach, both being able to break 11 minutes without a motor scooter. Jay Parker, however, may find some competition in Chet Holmquist.

But all in all, it should be a pretty good meet.

Thursday's tennis match between the Falcons and Toledo DeSales was postponed when threatening weather provoked Coach Morris Hendrickson to phone Toledo and cancel the match.

5 Schools Entered In First All-College Riding Show

The Hedden School of Riding will be host to the only all-college riding show ever to be held in Ohio this week-end as riders from Ohio State university, Ohio Wesleyan university, Heidelberg college, and Toledo university come to Bowling Green's campus.

Approximately 25 riders from the visiting universities will compete with 16 Bowling Green co-eds

Costello Passes Eleven In Red Cross Swim Test

Jean Hendrickson Instructs First 15 Hours Of Course

Mr. George Costello, field representative of the Red Cross for water safety, life saving, and first aid, was here during the week of May 12 to 16, giving the final 15 hours of testing and instructing for the instructor's course.

The instructor's course is the highest rating given by the Red Cross and those who pass it are qualified to teach all phases of swimming and diving, to give the Red Cross tests, and to pass senior and junior life-saving any place.

Requirements Named
Requirements for candidacy for the course are that each person must be at least 19 years of age, he must have passed senior life saving and he must have a definite place to use his life saving. Most of the women who passed the course have camp positions this summer and all the people will assist in the life saving classes at the university next year.

A preliminary course consisting of 15 hours was given by Jean Hendrickson. The final 15 hours under Mr. Costello were spent in teaching swimming and diving, discussing swimmers' and divers' tests, teaching and practicing life saving, and working with equipment.

Names Listed
Those men and women who get their instructor's rating for the first time are Mary Alice Wolf, Arlene Fisher, Joan Fulton, Helen Schwartz, Noma Traub, Budd Cox, Bob Norris, Paul Stark, John Keown, Leon Kantor, and Roger Bacon. Those renewing the course are Bob Osthimer, Dave Howell, Don Brill and Jean Hendrickson.

Racqueteers To Entertain Tars, Beavers

Falcon Netmen May Close Season With Bluffton; DeSales Powerful

Bowling Green's Hendrickson-coached racquet wielders will swing back into scheduled play this afternoon when they encounter the Toledo DeSales College Sailors in a match that was washed out last Thursday. The match is slated to be played on the Falcon courts.

Unless a match is added later this week the Brood courtmen will end their schedule, with the exception of the Ohio Conference meet at Gambier, when they meet the Bluffton College Beavers, Monday afternoon. The Mennonites usually produce good court teams and have always been exceptionally tough for the Falcons so the Brown and Orange will be severely tested.

Sailors Are Veterans
The Sailors will bring an experienced squad of netmen here this afternoon. Listed as the big guns of the Tar's attack are Chet Mierzejewski, Jack Blackburn, Ray Sullivan and Dick Frech, all veterans from last season. Last year the Brood-Sailor rivalry ended in a draw with each team winning one victory in the home and home competition.

Representing the Brown and Orange will be Don Mason, Jim Stearns, Bill Weaver, Jim Miller, Chuck Snyder and Owen Hughes. Jim Miller, promising sophomore, showed surprising power in defeating Toledo's Musser 6-3, 6-2. Mason, Stearns and Weaver, who lost their singles matches at Toledo have been greatly aided by the rest and time to practice and should be back in form for today's meet.

The meet will begin at 3 o'clock and there will be no admission.

Falcon Nine Tops Ashland, Loses To Flashes and Princes

Bowling Green's baseball squad fared none too well in last week's activity, winning from Ashland 6-2, but dropping decisions to Heidelberg 7-3 and to Kent State 5-4.

Last Wednesday the Student Princes of Heidelberg gained full revenge for an earlier Falcon victory as they hung an identical defeat on the locals. Mehlow worked on the hill for Bowling Green and went well except for three innings in which the winners scored all of their runs. The Falcons' big bats were silenced for the first time this season by Harmon and Andrews, who allowed only five hits.

Lose To Kent, Top Ashland

On the following Friday, in the team's invasion of eastern Ohio, Kent State edged the Stellersmen 5-4, scoring the winning run in the final inning on an infield bobbie. Bowling Green out-hit the winners 9 to 8, but the hitting was absent in the last innings when men were on base. The loss was Brudzinski's second of the season, but he was handicapped greatly in the fifth when a steady downpour of rain hurt his effectiveness.

The tables were turned on the following afternoon when the squad gained an even split for the season with Ashland's Eagles by lacing the home team 6-2. In the two team's previous meeting at Bowling Green the Eagles won 11-9, but Saturday was Hal Mehlow's day as he scattered 11 Ashland hits effectively in elbowing his way to his third victory of the season. His team mates played errorless ball behind him and hit well in the pinches, scoring in the third, fourth, seventh, and eighth innings.

Frosh Lead As Chapter I Ends

Bowling Green's freshman track squad was leading the varsity cindermen Monday afternoon when Senior Sneak Day festivities abruptly ended the intersquad feud. The meet will be continued later in the week.

The expected dual between Eddie Wellner, varsity flash, and Bill Regner, yearling sprint artist, was developing in fine form at quitting time. Regner copped the century dash in the excellent time of 10.1.

Bill Davis, stocky quarter-miler, paced the nestlings to a one, two,

Larkins Speaks At Varsity Club Spring Banquet

New Officers, Blanket Awards Announced At Feed

Featuring an informal, illustrated talk by Richard (Dick) Larkins, the Varsity Club held their annual spring banquet Thursday evening.

Mr. Larkins, a former Big Ten footballer and cage star at Ohio State and at present a member of the physical education faculty there, gave an entertaining talk and showed motion pictures of State football games, diving and winter sports. Mr. Larkins was introduced by Coach Budd Cox, the new club sponsor.

Presentation of Blankets
Another feature of the banquet was the presentation of blanket awards to the senior members of the club. The awards, which are given on the basis of meritorious service to the club, were given to 19 men by Coach Cox. Those that received the monogrammed blankets were Bob Barnett, Chuck Catanes, Dale Good, Clarence Goterba, Jim Hollinger, Mike Kormazis, LaMar Knecht, Cal Seckle, Kenelm Winslow.

Ed Mussill, George Dunn, Dwight Toedter, Bill Warren, Jim Zechman, Jack Doane, Steve Brudzinski, Al Allion and Owen Hughes.

New Officers
Officers were elected for the ensuing semester by the club. Paul Becker was named to succeed Steve Brudzinski as club president while Don Patterson, Harold Mehlow and Edson Park were chosen vice president, secretary and treasurer respectively. The other outgoing officers are Tom Tabler, vice president; Ralph Rotsel, secretary; and Edson Parll, treasurer.

This was the last regular meeting of the year for the varsity club.

Kohlmen Cop First In I.M. Swim Meet

Kohl Hall won the team intramural swimming championship with 33 points, seven more than the second place I Phi Thi team could muster at the recent all-campus swim meet.

Individual champs were crowned as well as two relay teams. Bill Holzaephel won the 50 yard free style; Austin Kelch the breast stroke event; Roger Bacon the back stroke; Clyde Smith the 100 free style; and Paul Woodburn the fancy diving.

Kohl Hall won the two relay events.

three victory in the 440 yard dash, being clocked in :51 flat for the distance.

Golfers Face Tars, Oilers To End Card

Sailors Provide Tough Competition; Findlay Fairly Strong

The first complete season of intercollegiate golf competition in the history of Bowling Green comes to an end next Monday and Tuesday when the Falcon linksmen battle the DeSales and Findlay teams on respective days on the latter's courses.

This will be the second meeting for both of the Falcon opponents. DeSales and Bowling Green fought to a 6-6 tie several weeks ago when the two teams toured the local country club. Findlay played their first match of the home and home series here yesterday.

Findlay Beat Princes
Findlay holds a 6½-5½ win over the Heidelberg club swingers, while they took a shellacking at the hands of a strong Dennison team last week by a 16-0 score.

Van Fleet, Sherk, Fink, and Morrison are expected to represent the Oilers on the Findlay Country club course next Tuesday. The DeSales golfers, who play most of their competitive matches against Michigan teams, are expected to be a bit tougher on their home course in Toledo.

Jachimik Tar Ace
Al Jachimik, the Tars ace club swinger, will again be expected to lead the field on Monday. Jachimik defeated Jack Schnappe in the first Falcon-Tar match. Bud Schoen, another veteran from last year's DeSales squad, will take the number two position of the Toledocons.

Jack Quilter will also carry the DeSales colors. Quilter is considered an accurate putter and may cause the Falcons some trouble.

Marshmen Trounce Heidelberg Golfers To Gain Revenge

Coach Fred Marsh's four man golf squad registered their first win of the season last Wednesday when they defeated the Heidelberg quartet 7-5 on the local course.

Jack Schnappe, Falcon No. 1 man, was medalist for the match with an eighteen hole card of 73. Schnappe defeated his opponent easily to register three points. Larry Conrad, playing in the No. 2 position, registered an 89 to lose his match 3-0.

Gatchell Cops 3 Points
Darl Gatchell took three points from his Heidelberg opponent to give the Falcons two complete matches. Gatchell toured the eighteen holes in 79. Chuck Buckenmeyer came through with an 85 to win the first nine but lost the last nine and the eighteen to lose 2-1.

Schnappe's opponent registered a 37-41-78 to lead the scoring honors for the Student Princes. This was the second match with Heidelberg. The tri-colors won the first in easy style.

The Falcon linksmen have won a record of one win, one defeat, and a tie. They are expected to fare better on the latter part of the schedule as all the men are improving their scores as the season progresses.

Wellner, Amos Win Football Field Meet

Captain Ed Wellner and Tony Amos have been declared winners in football field meet, for the backs and linemen respectively, according to an announcement made by Coach Robert Whittaker, head football mentor.

The field meet which was part of the spring practice sessions just closed, was a test of the various fundamental skills of football. Events included were passing, tackling, blocking, punting, place kicking and drop kicking.

The winners will be awarded trophies donated by Coach Whittaker. The five top men in the two classes are, in the backfield, Ed Wellner, Danny Marozon, Winston Park, Stanley Yoder and Dick Lowry and among the linemen, Tony Amos, Paul Becher, Ralph Quisenberry, Rowland Barnes and Gilbert Pedrotty.

Hurons and Tartars Take Field On Friday, Saturday

Michigan Normal Brings Tough Outfit To Campus; Wayne University Will Be Seeking Revenge; Findlay Game Is Tentative

Campus baseball fans will get two chances to see the Falcons in action this week, as they battle to rise above the .500 per cent basis. Friday afternoon finds Michigan State Normal's nine invading the local camp, followed on the following day by the Wayne University nine.

The Hurons have not engaged Bowling Green for the past two seasons, but spectators can expect to see one of Michigan's finest baseball teams. Two years ago at Ypsilanti, the locals dropped a one-run game and the seniors on the squad want to even accounts.

Wayne Is Saturday Foe
Saturday's foe has already been vanquished this year 6-3, at Detroit. This is Wayne's initial year of baseball, however, and they doubtless have improved since they opened their season with the Falcons.

There is a possibility that Coach Steller may take his squad to Findlay tonight for a night game, but nothing definite is known on the matter.

Findlay Game Tentative
Several weeks ago the squad was scheduled to play the Oilers, but there was an apparent mixup in the schedules, with the game being postponed. If the game is played tonight, it will be the first night baseball game ever to be played by a local team.

DeVilbiss, Tennis Champs Regain District Honors
Toledo DeVilbiss successfully defended its Class A track title; singles and doubles tennis champs were crowned; and Delta and Alvordton tied to share honors in the Class B track event in the district scholastic athletic carnival that was held on the campus last Saturday.

DeVilbiss won its honors by edging out Toledo Scott in the last event of the afternoon. The Tigers had 53 points while the Scotters ended up with 51 points. They were tied with 47 points apiece going into the last event. Other "A" schools finished in the following order: Lima Central, Waite, Findlay, Montpelier, Libbey, Wauscon, Lima South, Bryan, Perrysburg, Celina, Bowling Green, Woodward and Sylvania.

Class B Teams Tied
In Class B competition Alvordton and Delta finished with 26½ points to divide the honors. Other schools finished in this order: Risingsun, Tontogany, Webster, Leipsic, Ottawa, Pettitville, Liberty, Stryker, Archbold, Edon, Edgerton, Lake, Pemberville, Waterville, Wayne, Columbus Grove, North Baltimore and West Unity.

Two records were broken during the two day show. Stahl of Montpelier broke the pole vault record and Podvieniak of Scott cracked the discus mark. John Chadwell of Scott and Gil Goodman, DeVilbiss tied records in the 440 and 220 yard dashes respectively.

Defending Champs Win Again
In the district tennis tourney Clinton Stevenson, Norwalk and the Sylvania doubles team of Becker and Crego successfully defended their crowns. Stevenson won the singles again by trouncing Seaby Bailey of DeVilbiss in the finals 6-1, 6-1, while the Becker-Crego combine stopped the DeVilbiss duo of Mathias and Hendrickson in the finals, 6-1, 6-2.

Students, faculty and widely-known guest speakers recently participated in a conference on vital social problems at the University of Rochester.

'TWELFTH NIGHT', KEY DANCE, U.A. PROM HEAD MAY DAY FESTIVITY EVENTS

By MARTHA WALRATH

The biggest week-end to his B. G.'s campus in many a day is coming up. Of course you all know that May Day celebrations will be held tomorrow. Besides the day's main event, the crowning of the queen, the first performance of "Twelfth Night" will be presented, a banquet honoring mothers of senior girls will be held at Shatzel Hall and the first University Gridiron banquet will take place at Kohl Hall. Festivities continue on Friday. In the afternoon a Key Day dance, another new feature on the campus, will be held from 2 to 5. The U. A. Prom will be held in the evening in the Men's Gym. University Players will again present "Twelfth Night."

Hedden Riding Academy will hold a riding show Saturday afternoon with out-of-town riders competing. Saturday evening will find the Five Sisters, Skol and Three-Kays picnicking. Phratra sorority will attend a parmaenae of "The Male Animal" Saturday at Ann Arbor. Those who have not yet attended the play will have a final chance to do so that same evening. On Sunday the annual W. A. A. Walk will be held. An interesting program has been planned for the day. Shatzel seniors will be honored Monday evening at a formal dinner to be held from 6 to 8:30. We guarantee you that there is something for everyone to do this week-end. In fact, most of us will probably think on Monday morning that there was too much.

Sidney White was elected President of the FIVE SISTER sorority at the last meeting. The other new officers follow: Vice President, Marietta Kirschner; Secretary, Betty Zangli; Treasurer, Mary Parker; Assistant Treasurer, Martha Laudenslagle; Pledge Captain, Dorothy Mercer; Grand Provisioner, Ethel Zimmerman; Corresponding Secretary, Janet Adams; and Historian, Marianne Bell. The new officers were inducted by Nancy Perry, retiring president.

Sunday, May 18, the Five Sisters entertained their mothers at a tea from 3 to 5 in the afternoon. Dorothy Mercer was general chairman of the affair, and Arlene Fisher, Mary Lou Mauerhan, and Mary Mick were her assistants. The Fives are planning to hold their picnic at Meadowbrook Park this Saturday. Bette Sams is chairman of the food committee, and Pat Walter, Mary Mick Janet Adams, and Mary Jane Wilson are her assistants.

Third degree for the Delhi pledges was held last night at the fraternity house. After the third degree ceremony was completed officers were elected for the coming year. The retiring officers are Dwight Toedter, president; Carl Bourne, vice-president; Ralph Rotsel, secretary; Scott Dysinger, treasurer; Darwin Mayfield, chaplain; Ken Harger, sergeant at arms; and Bob Barnett, corresponding secretary. New officers will be announced next week.

Alumni at the house over the week-end included Brothers Shanley, Ladd, McCulloch, Kuhlman.

Williams Hall Holds Senior Farewell Dinner

The Williams Hall girls held their annual farewell formal dinner for seniors, Tuesday evening. The farewell address was given by the house chairman, Minnie Thompson and response by Mary Bair. The program consisted of a piano solo by Martha De Weese, reading by McDona Sitterle, French horn solo by Sue Raeder, duet by Kay Myers and Mary Mummaugh.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Prout, Dean and Mrs. Conklin and Dean Warner.

The SKOL sorority will hold its annual picnic for members and guests this Saturday at Otsego Park along the Maumee River. Sally Charles is in charge of making arrangements for the picnic.

Entertainment committee is Joan Norsworthy, Betty Hamler and Frances Williamson. Lynette Purky, Mable Clapper, Gene Mackey and Hope McAdams are in charge of food arrangements and Janet Crum and Jean Kinney are members of the invitation committee. Faculty guests at the picnic will include Dr. Florence Williamson and Miss Enna Pigg, sorority sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. John Bunn.

Election of officers for next year was held at the meeting last evening.

The third degree initiation and banquet of the FIVE BROTHER fraternity was held at the Methodist church last evening. Twenty-two pledges were formally initiated into the fraternity. This included the following: Bob Ertley, Don Myers, Doug Myers, Chuck Buckenmeyer, Dick Manahan, George Vucovich, Jack Moore, Ed Palmer, Henry Chapaton, Karl Turner, Kenny Rothberger, Don Harris, Pete Parentar, Carr Newcomer, Pete Stanford, Lowell Siel-schott, Wally Uphoff, Bob Heude, Joe Ott, John Rhodes, John Phillips, and Wayne Rudy. Election of next year's officers and final plans for the picnic were made in the business meeting which followed the ceremonies.

Brothers Ed Winzler, Stan Bortel, and Harold Bishop have joined Uncle Sam's draftees at Camp Shelby. Alumni brother Bob Smith, social science and physical education instructor at McClure high, has been promoted to high school principal for next year's term.

Dr. F. J. Prout will be presented with the first Key at 2:30. Also during the afternoon the six outstanding personalities on the campus, three girls and three boys, will be introduced. These persons were chosen last semester by faculty and student vote. Ernest Maddock will explain distribution procedures for the Keys and they will be given out to all attending the dance.

Don Rager is general chairman in charge of the dance arrangements. Assisting him are Bruce Esterly, Harriet McKnight and Francis Ruth.

Joan Brown has been elected president of LAS AMIGAS sorority for next year. She succeeds Ruth Meek. Other officers are: Betty Loveland, vice president; Helen Morrow, secretary; Lois Gordon, treasurer; Catherine Smith, corresponding secretary; June Smith, pledge master; Ruth Meek, historian. Installation of new officers will be held in two weeks.

Helen Morrow has been confined to Findlay Hospital for the past week, following an operation. She was recently taken to her home in Cygnet. The sorority attended Joan Brown's recital at Church of Christ, May 18, in a body.

As their part in the May Day celebration, the SEVEN SISTERS will serve punch on the lawn this afternoon. Grace Heater, Ruth Allen, and Mildred Mannhart, alumnae, were guests at the Seven Sister sorority house last week.

Plans have been completed for the all-campus formal dance to be sponsored by the Sevens on May 30, and the alumnae breakfast on May 31. Miss Purdy, sponsor, has been ill for the past week.

Virginia Kline was named president of the THREE KAY sorority in a recent election of officers at the sorority house. Ruth Vermilya was elected vice president; Esther Burner, secretary; Harriet Shearman, treasurer; and June Wassermann, chaplain.

The sorority is making plans for its annual picnic to be held at Sidecut Park Saturday evening. Alumnae guests of last week included Donna Parker, Maxine Smith, and Charlotte Iman.

The staffs of the BEE GEE NEWS and the KEY will hold a joint picnic on May 28 at Sidecut Park. The feature of the evening will be a ball game between the rival staffs. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Currier will be the chaperones.

Members of the committee appointed from the News staff are: Max Hanke, chairman; Martha Walrath, Hugh Nott, Marjorie Hilt, Vida Harms, and Jean Reid. The committee members from the Key staff have not yet been appointed.

Staff members planning to go should sign up in the News or Key office immediately.

The PHRATRA sorority is planning to attend "The Male Animal" in Ann Arbor, May 24. The play is to be given in the Lydia Mendelsohn auditorium and it stars Ruth Matteson and Conrad Nagle. Preceding the play, the sorority is going to have lunch at the Women's League. Representatives from other sororities will be the Phratra's guests for the day. Miss Durrin and Mrs. Carpenter, the sorority sponsors, will accompany the group.

To Teach Law

Dr. B. L. Pierce, above, has been transferred to the College of Business Administration to teach law. Dr. Frank J. Prout announced this week.

Dr. Pierce was director of teacher training during the last year.

Two Will Receive Honorary Degrees

Walter F. Kirk, Oak Harbor, and William E. Levis, Toledo, will be awarded special honorary degrees at commencement exercises June 6, according to president Frank J. Prout.

Mr. Kirk, one of Ohio's outstanding rural leaders, will be given the degree of doctor of science in agriculture; while Mr. Levis, a Toledo civic leader, will be given the degree of doctor of Laws.

Mr. Kirk is a member of the board of Flower hospital, Toledo, and served in the Ohio legislature 1921-1924. He serves on the board of directors of many state agricultural associations, and has been master of the state Grange since 1928.

Mr. Levis, a graduate of the University of Illinois, is now chairman of the board of the Owen-Illinois Glass company and a member of the board of trustees of Illinois State University. He has been active in such civic movements in Toledo as the Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo Symphony orchestra, Community Chest, and others.

COOLER, Milder, BETTER TASTE
liked by smokers everywhere

Just as you know you'll always find it cooler at the beaches, smokers know they can always count on Chesterfield for a Cooler smoke that's refreshingly Milder and far Better-Tasting.

Everybody who smokes Chesterfields likes their right combination of the best tobaccos that grow in our own Southland and that we bring from far-off Turkey and Greece. THEY SATISFY.
